

As appeared in Times of Oman dated Aug. 24, 2010

Fun frolic and games mark ISG Carnival

KICK-START: Ahmed Rayees, president, School Management Committee, in a playful mood at the carnival.

MUSCAT: The lush green lawns of Indian School Al Ghubra was transformed into a hub of food game stalls music and dance with students and parents contributing for a noble cause at the Round Square Carnival held earlier this month. Excitement fun and frolic took over the otherwise calm ISG campus long before the carnival was officially inaugurated by Ahmed Rayees president School Management Committee and his wife Nisham Rayees. The guests were impressed with the variety of stalls and the dedicated contributions of the students of Class 12 who organised the entire show. Rayees praised the efforts of these students for their hard work excellent planning and sincere execution of the event. The main attractions included the song dedication centre the PS2 alley the Fortune Teller's tent the henna tattoo and hair colour stall the Haunted House and many more which were entirely managed by the students. The evening was made more colourful with children turning up in various attires in red as red had been declared as the colour of the day. The cultural programmes showcased an array of talents of the students which included rock bands group and solo renditions classical and popular dance numbers. The major highlight of the evening was the fashion show held in the school auditorium. The much awaited show took off with Ahmed Rayees and his wife Nisham walking the ramp. Fashion show The senior students of ISG displayed a colourful range of costumes designed by the students themselves in the various categories – Indian International Gizmo and Journey to the Past. The show concluded with the Principal Papri Ghosh and the VicePrincipal G. Sreekumar taking the ramp and declaring the showstopper. The organisers expressed their delight on having received such overwhelming response from the students parents and well wishers of the school and reiterated that all the proceeds of the carnival would be donated to local and international charity.