

ISG student performs with YOME

Raadhika Venkatesh, a class 9 student of Indian School Al Ghubra had the rare distinction of performing at the Youth Orchestra of the Middle East. The second annual event of YOME was held at Dubai College on Wednesday 7 April 2010. She was one among 35 performers and her Violin recital in the orchestra was well appreciated by one and all.

Under the patronage of H.H Sheikha Manal Bint Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Makhtoum, the President of Dubai Women Establishment, YOME brings together young musicians from different countries, cultures and communities to join a common goal- the celebration of musical excellence.

Raadhika was hence provided the opportunity to experience the marvel of playing in a professional environment as a part of the symphony orchestra. This full orchestra was conducted by Peter Currie a Leading Orchestra Conductor from the United Kingdom. The orchestra included Violin, Viola, Cello and Double Bass, Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Basson, French Horn, Trumpet, Trombone and Tuba and Percussions which were played by the performers of various nationalities.

The ISG family is indeed proud of Raadhika and wishes her all success in her future endeavors in Classic Western Music.
